My name is Steve McMarson. I have been photographing weddings and producing creative wedding photos for 15 years. My approach to life is simple, never be afraid to accept new challenges and actively love the people who are important to you.

Being a photographer, I spend 95% of my working life around people celebrating. It is a pretty great way to spend your life! Documenting a couple's wedding day is a privilege that I take really seriously. I spend time with my couples before the wedding day to ensure that the images I capture reflect their sense of self as well as appealing to their artistic tastes. Blending the 'Epic' with the 'Genuine' is important to me. That is why I stay to the end of the reception as a standard inclusion to all of my wedding photography packages.

The thing I enjoy most about being part of the wedding day is getting to see how people interact with each other. Watching the 'tough as nails' Dad tear up as he takes his daughters hand to walk down the aisle, or the expressions of raucous laughter as the Best man tells 'that' story are some of my favourite parts of the day. Love, laughter, tears of all sorts, that is what I am in it for!

Albert River Wines is an incredible venue. Perched on a hilltop with rural views, including Mt Tamborine itself, the venue boasts multiple ceremony and reception locations. Ideal for the couple that values great service and wide spaces, without travelling too far from Brisbane or the Gold Coast.

Rainforests, rolling hills, amazing gardens, incredible trees and interesting paddocks make Mt Tamborine and the great South-East a wedding photographers dream!
